FOR SALE,

FOUR HUNDRED HOUSE LOTS

AND

Other Valuable Real Estate.

THE following described Real Estate, comprising House Lots, and other property, eligibly situated in the villages of Saco and Biddeford, will be sold by the proprietors, at prices and on terms favorable to purchasers.

The House Lots, about 400 in number, are principally situated in Saco, between the Railroad Depots of Biddeford and Saco—a portion of them above the Railroad, and a portion below, in a pleasant and healthy location, and commanding a fine view of both villages. They are advantageously situated for the residence of persons having business in either Saco or Biddeford, being within six minutes walk of Main street and Pepperell Square, Saco, and five minutes walk of the Machine Shop and Cotton Mills of the Laconia, Pepperell and Water Power Corporations of Biddeford. A substantial Bridge, 375 feet long and 42 feet wide, resting on granite piers, and with sidewalks has been built across the Saco River, thus connecting the lots with Biddeford, and placing them within three minutes' walk of Smith's Corner. From this bridge a street is graded to the Railroad Crossing on Water street, which will be extended to Buxton Road. Other streets have been laid out, extending along the margin of the Saco River, and to Water street.

The new road recently laid out by the County Commissioners, extending into the country from Saco, will intersect with Market street which passes across the above described bridge to Biddeford.

Besides the lots before mentioned, the proprietors have a dozen or more house lots for sale, on Spring's Island, contiguous to the bridge and within two minutes' walk of the workshops and mills on said island.

They will sell also in lots of from one to five acres, as may be wanted, a tract of land adjoining that which is reserved for house lots. Said tract consists of 44 acres, and is situated on the Western side of the Railroad, and runs to the Buxton road, the line striking that road within a few rods of the Saco Depot.

Warrantee Deeds will be given of all lots sold by the proprietors, A. H. Boyd, Saco; D. E. Somes, Biddeford; Josephus Baldwin and Lawrence Barnes, Nashua, N. H.; W. P. Newell, Manchester, N.H.

For further particulars, as to prices and conditions, inquire of D. E. SOMES, of Biddeford, agent for the proprietors.

PREFACE.

The Biddeford and Saco Directory, which is now offered to the public, has been prepared with the belief that such a work is wanted in the community, and that if faithfully executed, would meet with success.

From the nature of the work, it cannot be expected to be entirely free from imperfections. Whatever inaccuracies occur, however, have not resulted from a want of vigilance, and diligent inquiry, but from the impossibility of obtaining correct information, relative to all persons comprised The labor of obtaining the names of the citizens was done the first of March, of the present year, and consequently represent matters as they existed at that time. In places like these, where progress is the order of the day, necessarily there will be many removals and constant changes, and it is not expected that the Directory will answer for more than one year. Should sufficient encouragement be bestowed upon the present work, it is contemplated to continue its publication another year.

The Publishers would take occasion to acknowledge in general terms, the important assistance they have received from all to whom they have applied for information.

We trust our advertising pages will receive the notice they merit, as not the least useful portion of our compilation. We believe we are rendering essential service to our readers, in thus presenting to their attention the business cards of the leading business firms of the two places, in a form convenient for reference whenever occasion may require.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.

There are twelve School Districts in the city, containing in all 2692 scholars.

District Number Four comprises the City proper, and has eleven schools, containing 2037 scholars, and employing fifteen teachers.

In 1849 a plan for the more efficient operation of the schools in this District was devised by a Committee chosen for the purpose, consisting of Richard M. Chapman, Erastus Hayes, and Thomas H. Cole. The Graded System was adopted, and the scholars were divided into four grades of schools, viz.: Primary, Intermediate, Grammar, and a High School.

The Primary and Intermediate Schools are under the care of female teachers, and the Grammar Schools and High School, of male teachers with a female assistant in the latter.

The Primary Schools are composed of scholars from four years to about eight, or till qualified to enter the Intermediate Schools. They are taught in Reading, Spelling, Geography, and Arithmetic.

The Intermediate Schools receive their scholars from the Primary, who remain there till eleven or twelve, or until qualified to enter the Grammar Schools. The branches pursued are a continuation of those taught in the Primary with the addition of Writing.

The Grammar Schools are supplied with scholars from the Intermediate, who continue there until about thirteen or fourteen, when they are admitted to the High School to finish their education. The branches attended to are a continuation of those of the Intermediate, with the addition of Grammar and History.

These schools are furnished with Maps and Globes, and have small Libraries. They are designed to give scholars a good common English education.

The High School is designed to give scholars an education in the higher branches of Learning, sufficiently complete for the study of any of the professions where a collegiate course is not desired, and to fit them for college. The complete course is equal to the preparatory course and two years in college.

The branches taught are Grammar, Arithmetic, Ancient Geography, Book-keeping, Nat. Philosophy, Chemistry, Algebra, Geometry, Trigonometry, Surveying, Astronomy, Physiology, Botany, Rhetoric, Universal History, Mental Philosophy, Moral Philosophy, Geology, Mineralogy, and the French, Latin, and Greek Languages.

Exercises in Composition and Declamation are required. The English Course occupies three years, and the full course in all the branches, five years.

Connected with the school is a carefully selected Library of more than one hundred and fifty, mostly octavo, volumes of the most approved standard authors; as the Encyclopædia Americana, Brande's Encyclopædia of Science, Ure's Dictionary of Arts &c., Lyell's Elements and Principles of Geology, De la Beche's Geological Observer, Audubon's and Wilson's Ornithology Gray's Botanical Text Book and Genera of Plants, Godman's Natural History, Gould's Conchology, Webster's Quarto Dictionary, Bancroft's History of the United States, Cyclopædia of English Literature, Cyclopædia of American Literature, Weisbach's Mechanics and Engineering, &c. Also, a good collection of historical, physiological, geographical, and geological Maps.

Donations of books have been received from James Munroe & Co., of Boston, and Louis O. Cowan. Also, a fine portrait of Welch's Washington, purchased at an expense of eighteen dollars, from D. E. Somes, Mayor of the City.

There is also, a Philosophical, Chemical and Astronomical Apparatus, purchased at an expense of three hundred and fifty dollars, consisting of the Electric Machine, Air pump and fixtures, Mechanical Powers, Terrestrial and Celestial Globes, Tellurium, Planetarium, &c. Besides, there is a Cabinet of Minerals of some three or four hundred specimens, collected by the teachers and pupils, and presented by gentlemen interested in this depatment of science. Valuable specimens have been presented by President E. Hitchcock, Thomas Quinby, James Hall, and J. R. Thompson, of Portland.

This Cabinet contains a portion of the Geological Series, and some of the rarer minerals; it is constantly increasing by donations, exchanges. and purchases.

There is a Botanical Collection of some hundred specimens of different kinds of wood, and also some collections in Conchology.

The scholars have free access to all these aids in the study of the sciences when needed to illustrate the branches they are pursuing.
